COMPUTER PROGRAMMERS (male or female)

COMPUTER OPERATORS (male or female)

THE RESERVE BANK OF NEW ZEALAND is expanding its computer centre and requires additional programmers and operators. Experienced personnel will be preferred and in the case of Programmers a Science or Commerce degree with mathematics would be an advantage. If, however, your experience in the computer field is limited we would still like to hear from you provided you are really interested in this challenging type of work and possess a good educational background. Reasonable removal expenses where applicable will be met by the Bank.

WORKING CONDITIONS in Featherston Street Head Office are excellent and will be further enhanced in 1970 when the new Reserve Bank building is completed. Both locations are within easy walking distance of the Railway Station and other transport facilities.

PRESENT EQUIPMENT is based upon a Burroughs B273 installation which was installed in 1964 with magnetic tapes and discs. Input equipment includes a Magnetic Ink Character Recognition reader/sorter.

THERE ARE FOUR PARTICULAR REASONS why we believe you should apply for a position with the Computer section of the Reserve Bank:

1. Rapid and continuing expansion provide both the climate and scope for your future aspirations.
2. Commencing salaries will reward adequately the nature and breadth of your experience. Thereafter, regular reviews will ensure that the quality of your performance on the job is fully recognised.
3. As an employee of the Reserve Bank you will enjoy a wide range of fringe benefits. Details of these will be discussed during personal interviews.
4. You will work in a stimulating and hence satisfying environment.

YOUR APPLICATION should refer to the position, clearly stating code number and position title and setting out your age, dependants, education, qualifications, training, detailed work history, telephone numbers and other relevant information. Your identity will not be disclosed to our client without your permission. Please address your application to:

RELAX...

HAVE IT ALL TAKEN CARE OF.

A Grinnell Automatic Sprinkler and Fire Alarm System can take over the responsibility for your fire protection. Grinnell's impressive record makes it so easy to take a relaxed attitude towards fire.

Statistics point to Grinnell's clear-cut security: An amazing 99% of satisfactory operation over a period of more than 75 years with an average loss of only £278 per fire, including smoke and water damage — a figure kept remarkably low simply because a fire cannot gain control before heat actuates the nearest sprinkler head.

Simultaneously with the commencement of operation of a sprinkler head the Grinnell Alarm alerts the Fire Brigade.

A direct connection to the watch-room of the nearest Fire Station indicates your building and speeds the Brigade directly to the fire. And there are still further advantages. There has been no known loss of life from fire in a Grinnell protected building anywhere in the world. Insurance Companies offer up to 50% rebate of premiums on Fire and Loss of Profits policies — and Special Depreciation allowed on Plant may be claimed for taxation purposes.

Want that relaxed feeling yourself? Then let us tell you more about Grinnell protection and how it can apply to your building.
