Fletcher joins Computer Bureau

(N.Z. Press Association)

AUCKLAND, Dec. 3.

Fletcher Holdings, Ltd, has merged its computer bureau in Auckland with the newly-formed Computer Bureau (Holdings), Ltd.

Computer Bureau, registered with a capital of $600,000, has bureaux in Christchurch, Wellington and Hamilton, and had planned to open another in Auckland.

The Fletcher bureau, which has been functioning for more than five years, had decided to offer its services to outside companies.

"It was therefore decided that a merging of interests would be advantageous to both companies, their clients and staff," said a joint statement of the two companies today.

Computer Bureau has a staff of more than 100 and carries out work for about 50 client companies. Its shareholders include 20 major firms, including some in insurance, the dairy industry, manufacturing and finance—who are also clients.

A factor in the merger is that both companies use compatible I.C.L. equipment, which will eventually allow the transmission of data information between the four centres.

Fletchers will be represented on the board of Computer Bureau (Holdings), Ltd, and the board of the operating subsidiary, Computer Bureau (Auckland), Ltd, by Mr H. F. Molony.

Other directors of the holding company include Mr E. A. Crothall of Christchurch

...tion, ... of Christchurch
(chairman), Mr L. A. Rander-son, general manager of the N.I.M.U. Insurance Company, and Mr A. H. Woolven, general manager of the New Zealand Co-operative Dairy Company. The chief executive is Dr G. B. Battersby.
